

Set Extension

SEN

Refers to the process of digitally extending or enhancing the physical sets used during filming. This technique allows animators to create larger or more complex environments that may not be feasible to build entirely in the physical world.

VFX

The process on which imaginary is created or manipulated outside the context of the footage shot in filmmaking and video production

