

Pre-visualization tool is used to plan and visualize the sequence of shots, timing, and pacing of a project before full animation production begins.

It's essentially a rough draft created using storyboards or storyboard sketches, along with shots in 2D animation to determine timing, temporary sound effects, dialogue, and music.

This is also used as a reference for the animators, it does not show how the final product would look.

Animatic

